Improved Roads Benefit Farmers
The difference in feeling among the automobile drivers and the non-automobile drivers regarding the value of the country road is lamentable. There is little chance for argument between the farmer who owns the auto and the city driver, for both feel that the good road is a valuable asset to the community. However, aside from this fact, a good road means saving of many dollars to the farmer in marketing his grain, and also his live stock. The gravelled road or even the well crowned, hardened dirt road, will permit the hauling of 1,000 to 2,000 pounds more per load. With a short haul of three miles to market, even this will effect a saving of 2 cents per bushel. With a long haul of twelve to fifteen miles a still greater saving will be effected. The farmer who argues that good roads are only to benefit the automobile drivers is evidently cutting off his nose to spite his face. He fails to realize that the worst place in the road or the steepest hill will limit his load. Recently in talking with a farmer the statement was made that one hill between the farm and town limited the load to twenty-five bushels of wheat. He emphasized this at meetings in his neighborhood and in a short time had twelve farmers, each pledged to donate a day's labor in cutting down the grade and graveling it so that the load could be doubled. If the load can be doubled it would reduce the cost of marketing grain one-half. The present system of using the drag again after rains is showing surprising results. The road soil will make a hard, firm crown that will not only be better for the time being, but will have its influence on the following rains. With a hard, smooth surface there will be no opportunity for the water to collect in puddles.—Joplin Globe.

Essentials of Road Management
Summarized briefly, the essentials to successful State highway administration, as demonstrated by the experience of the various State highway departments, are as follows: (a) the elimination of politics as a factor in State highway work; (b) the control by the State highway department of all work on which State funds are expended; (c) adequate appropriations for continuous maintenance of highways under efficient supervision from the day the highways are completed; (d) State supervision as to surveys, plans, and specifications of roads and bridges constructed under bond issues, and supervision of such other road and bridge work as requires considerable cash outlay and the exercise of engineering skill and knowledge.—Yearbook, U. S. Dept. Agr.
How can the man living in America earn wages with free trade when its only purpose is to send foreign goods here to take the place of his own production?

BRADLEYVILLE
The farmers are quite busy cutting corn.
M. B. Slusher has traded his store to Mr. Gollion for his farm.
Quite a number of the young folks attended church at Oak Ridge Sunday.
Miss Delphia Blair was the guest of Goldia Rozell last Tuesday night.
J. W. Rozell and family departed for Chadwick Monday where they will make their home.
Goldia Rozell and Hazel McPherson spent Saturday night with Beulah Jackson.
Several of the young folks of this place attended the dance at Mr. Adams' Saturday night. All reported a nice time.
The singing at E. A. McPhersons' Sunday night was well attended.
Mrs. B. F. Savage and daughter, Poncie attended the White River Association at the Johnson school house. The report was a good meeting.
J. F. Melton has his new barn almost finished.
GARBER.
Good old summer time has been with us the last few days and the cold chilly days of August are forgotten. But some are beginning to think a rain would do some good now, as the ground is getting dry and hard to plow, and several are doing considerable fall plowing for the seeding of winter oats and wheat.
Taking care of Alfalfa and other winter feed is engaging the farmer's time, to the exclusion of everything else.
J. F. Leckrone and wife and two little girls returned home from the west where they had been since in June. After the harvest Mr. Leckrone and wife were with a threshing machine outfit, until their return.

Mr. J. F. Hill returned home last week to stay a few days, when she will return to Carthage, where her daughter Frances is in school.
J. W. Vining and wife spent most of last week in Aurora, visiting with Mrs. Vining's parents, returning home last Sunday.
R. L. Cantwell shipped a carload of cattle early Monday morning from Branson, where he had to go to load them, to Kansas City.
Miss Ethel Walden will begin her school at Dewey Bald School house next Monday the 20th.
Mrs. Cora Lewallen came in Monday from Crane to visit her mother Mrs. Margaret Davis. Mrs. Lewallen lives in western Kansas and has not been home for several years.
Elton Fronberger is yet in bed with typhoid fever, but is resting quite well this morning, and it will be several days before he will be out of bed as the fever has not been broken up yet, but the doctor has it well under control.
J. M. Burt left for Kansas City last week to engage in work for the rest of the fall.
From some cause money seems to be very close, and people that owe are unable to get money to pay off their debts, that makes it hard for all. It seems in most cases that where credit has been extended, and quite a free use had been made of it, that many bought, with the idea that they could always go on, but the conditions for the last year has changed the merchants plan of crediting to that of cash and as a result, those that were already in debt, were obliged to pay cash for what they had to, and must have, and let the back payments rest, causing a reaction in the general run of business, that it will take some time to get caught up with, as all past due will have to be made from a surplus over the usual cash expenses and it seems harder to pay backwards than forwards.

TANEYVILLE
There were several from this place who attended the Association at the Johnson school house the latter part of last week. All report a good time.
Rudolph Downing and Fred Caudle, who have been to Oklahoma on a business trip, came in last Saturday.
James Johnson is very low with the fever, he is at his sisters' Mrs. Mayden.
Mrs. Osborn went to Forsyth the latter part of the week on business.
Mr. Thos. Harps, from Christian county drove out a nice drove of cattle the latter part of the week.
The Taneyville people have the good road fever sure, you can tell by the way they are working on the streets.
Bernard Bird who is teaching the Ray school, spent Saturday and Sunday at Taneyville with his uncle M. E. Bird.
Mr. and Mrs. Blofeld, together with Mr. and Mrs. Morrow spent Sunday on Beaver.
Misses Florence Blofeld Ruby Downing and Ada Osborne, took dinner with Jessie and Fay Clemens Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Grover Ray and little daughter, Irma went to Forsyth Sunday.
Mr. Thornton from Protem is conducting a series of meetings here this week.
Mr. Stover and Mr. Ball from Swan, were in town Tuesday.
Mrs. Ida Hull came up from Forsyth Monday evening to visit her sister Mrs. Nellie Ray.
Rye Helems came in a few days ago.
R. Blofeld thinks he will get through this week.
Mr. Pinkerton from Kisee Mills was in town Tuesday.
Frank Davidson visited Taneyville Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Mayden of Spar's, are visiting Mr. Morrow's.
John Kilby recently got a telephic message to come to Kisee Mills, at once to help fill silos.
Sanford Smith from Middleton, came to the Taneyville Mill Tuesday.

NEW NAVAL BOARD
Secretary Daniels Announces Membership of His Advisory Committee.
FIRST MEETING ON OCTOBER 6
Men of Prominence in Many Lines in List—Views to Be Given Great Weight by Government.
Washington, Sept. 13.—The membership of the naval advisory board, the organization of experts nominated by eleven great engineering and scientific societies to contribute their inventive genius to the American navy, was announced today by Secretary Daniels. The first meeting will be held at the navy department Wednesday, October 6, with the chairman, Thomas A. Edison, presiding.
"Desiring to make available the latest inventive genius of our country to improve our navy," said Mr. Daniels, in making his announcement a short while ago, "I requested Thomas A. Edison to become chairman of an advisory board of prominent men who would make up the board. Mr. Edison, with the patriotism characteristic of American inventors, accepted the call to duty."
The plan adopted for selecting the members of the advisory board was as follows: "I requested eleven great engineering and scientific societies to select, by popular election, two members to represent them on the board. The result has been most gratifying. I have received the nominations of all these societies and have accepted them and it only remains to have a meeting, organize and determine the method of procedure in order to utilize to the best advantage this mobilization of the talent and genius of our great country."
The members of the board and the societies which nominated them follow:
American Aeronautical Society—Hudson Maxim, Brooklyn, and Matthew Bacon Sellers, Baltimore.
American Society of Automobile Engineers—Horace E. Coffin, Detroit, Mich., and Andrew J. Riker, Bridgeport, Conn.
The Inventors Guild—Dr. Peter Cooper, Hewitt, N. Y., and Thomas Robbins, Stamford, Conn.
American Chemical Society—Dr. R. W. Whitney, Schenectady, N. Y., and L. H. Baekeland, Yonkers, N. Y.
American Institute of American Engineers—Frank Julian Sprague, New York, and Benjamin G. Lamme, Pittsburgh.
American Mathematical Society—Robert Simpson Woodward, president of the Carnegie Institute at Washington, D. C., and Dr. Arthur Gordon Webster, Worcester, Mass.
American Society of Civil Engineers—Andrew Murray Hunt, New York, and Alfred Craven, New York.
The American Institute of Mining Engineers—William Lawrence Saunders, New York, and Benjamin Bowditch, Thayer, N. Y.
The American Electro-Chemical Society—Dr. Joseph William Richards, South Bethlehem, Pa., and Lawrence Addicks, Chrome, N. J.
The American Society of Mechanical Engineers—William Leroy Emmett, Schenectady, N. Y., and Spencer Miller, South Orange, N. J.
The American Society of Aeronautic Engineers—Henry Alexander Wise Wood, and Elmer A. Sperry, electrical inventor and manufacturer.
Secretary Daniels has declared his intention of seeing that great weight is given all conclusions and recommendations of this board not only in the framing of the administration's recommendations to congress but in the regular operation and development of the navy.

WOULD SAVE PRIZE CATTLE
Breeder of Northern Illinois Oppose Slaughter of Fine Herds by the Government Inspectors.
Chicago, Sept. 11.—To plan concentrated opposition to the slaughter of prize cattle in Illinois by federal inspectors who have discovered foot-and-mouth disease in the herds, wealthy breeders met at the Hotel Sherman today.
Mrs. Cott Durand, whose Guernsey cattle valued at more than $50,000, were ordered slaughtered, was one of the leaders of today's meeting. She declared that she would not submit to having her cattle killed until they have been quarantined several months to see if a cure cannot be effected. Others who attended said that since the outbreak of the disease half a million dollars' worth of prize cattle, and thousands of dollars' worth of beef and dairy cattle have been killed by government inspectors.
A Booster Train Wrecked.
Boyd, Wis., Sept. 10.—Two trains on the Soo collided here the other morning. Four men were injured severely, but not fatally. The passenger train was a special carrying boosters for the Chippewa Falls fair.
Unmasked Robbers Get $1,200.
Grant, Ok., Sept. 10.—Two unmasked men stepped into the Bank of Grant just as Cashier L. L. Webb was closing for the day yesterday, and, leveling revolvers at Webb, scooped up $1,200 and escaped.
